SANTA CLARA CONVENTION CENTER, CA

ABOUT THE IIT GLOBAL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCES

PanIIT Inc. is a 501c (6) not-for-profit, US based organization of the alumni from the Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) that facilitates the Global Leadership conferences (GLCs). Since 2003, these GLCs have been organized by volunteer IIT alumni (IITians) every year, and are held in the USA during odd years, and in India during even years. These sell out conferences have attracted over 3500 participants, and have had iconic speakers such as Bill Gates and President Bill Clinton to name a few. Details of PanIIT Inc., IITs and past conferences can be found at <http://iit.org>

IIT Alumni 2015 Global Leadership Conference / The Internet of People (IoP)

The IIT Global Leadership Conference is being held on July 24-25, 2015 at the Santa Clara Convention Center, Santa Clara, California.

Just as the Internet connects computers/Things, the 2015 IIT Global Leadership Conference connects People, very bright people. The Internet of People (IoP), brings together 4,000 of the best minds, both IITian and non-IITian, to present science fiction like technology that will change your life, share secrets to success, and encourage giving back.

The IoP delivers:

- Inspirational Keynote Speeches, Panels and Fireside Chats
- Innovative Ideas to spark the next wave in technology
- Transformational Technology
- IIT Women's Day, IIT Director Engagement Day
- Achieving with Mentor / Mentee Connect
- Networking , Professional and Social
- Giving Back , Novel ways to do so

Socialize during conference breaks in the Exhibitor Hall, hydrate during H3, our Happy Hour and a Half, refuel with sumptuous dinners, relax with world class entertainment, then get up and dance to foot-stomping music.

ICONIC SPEAKERS, PANELISTS, MODERATORS

Past IIT Global Leadership conferences (GLCs) have been privileged to have had as speakers icons of success such as Bill Gates (2003, Silicon Valley), Jack Welch (2005, Washington DC), Jeff Immelt, (2007, Silicon Valley), President Bill Clinton (2009, Chicago), President Vincente Fox and Nobel Laureate Amartya Sen (2013, Houston).

In 2015, we continue to be privileged with inspirational keynote speakers and high tech panelists and moderators who will present science fiction-like innovative technology that will enable the markets of tomorrow and transform lives. We shall deliberate new techniques for delivering education to the masses and at institutions of higher learning while motivating participants to get engaged with education.

In addition, the conference will demonstrate the power of giving back, present innovative models for managing nonprofit organizations, and reveal why most successful people give back.

Got an unanswered question? Continue the conversation at the conference in the Q&A Lounge.
